KATIE NEWTON spots a Scandi-style chalet that's open just in time for the ski season

Tihi Chalet

With picture postcard views of Lake Wakatipu that stretch both north and south, this newly built Queenstown holiday pad is already proving popular with visitors. Scandi-style furnishings, cosy furs, white shutters and rough-sawn painted timber walls feel welcoming and unpretentious, and the outdoor spa pool is the ideal spot to take in the view while soaking tired muscles after a long day on the ski slopes. The 276sqm floor plan includes a carpeted double garage, 10-seater dining table and entertainer's kitchen, but if cooking is too much effort, town is a 12-minute walk away. With four bedrooms and three bathrooms it works for a large group, two small families or groups of couples. From $750 per night.
